

K2 Visit to Finnway Connect

On Thursday, our K2 students had a wonderful morning at Finnway Connect. The children enjoyed playing, exploring the garden, and sharing a circle time together with the K1 class. It was a joyful experience, and also a very meaningful one.

During the visit, the children practiced being part of a group—walking together in a line, listening carefully, and taking care of each other along the way. We followed simple traffic rules, noticed things in our environment (including some big boats!), and built confidence by walking independently.

These kinds of real-life experiences are very important in kindergarten. Children learn best through doing, moving, and exploring, and moments like this support their independence, social skills, and understanding of the world around them.

We also shared a special circle time led by T. Ciana, where we sang the numbers 1-20 in English, Thai, Chinese, and French, along with other fun and engaging songs!

It was a morning full of connection, learning, and joy!

Student Reflections

During our visit, the children shared what they enjoyed the most:

- "Playing on the trampoline with Khun Tup"
- "Playing together with Audrey and Nino"
- "Exploring water beads" (Emma)
- "Play cooking" (Zyed)
- "I like when everyone is happy" (Naomi)
- "Seeing T. Ciana again" (Thun)
- "Finding and playing with an elephant stuffy"
- "Playing with new friends"
- "Playing on the swings with T. Lindsay" (Lisa)

Celebrating Student Success

We are incredibly proud to celebrate Troy Sivapruksa, one of our Finnway G6 students, for his outstanding achievement in padel tennis.

Troy recently competed in the APPT Padel Thailand tournament, held in Phuket, where he was crowned Champion of the Male Amateur B category alongside his father.

This remarkable accomplishment also marks Troy as the youngest player and champion on the Asia Pacific Padel Tour, and represents his entry into international-level competition. Even more impressively, he is now ranked number 2 in Thailand in men's padel tennis.

While this is an individual achievement, we are proud to support Troy in balancing his academic journey with his sporting ambitions, and to celebrate his success as part of our school community.

Well done, Troy. We look forward to seeing where your journey takes you next.
